

Is My Child at Risk of Learning Issues Checklist

The following parent checklist is designed to help concerned parents decide if their child is in need of help.

		Always	Some-times	Never
1.	Misunderstands what you say
2.	Needs instructions repeated
3.	Misunderstands jokes
4.	Has difficulty understanding long sentences
5.	Needs questions repeated
6.	Has difficulty retelling a story in the right order
7.	Cannot finish long sentences
8.	Has trouble saying the same thing in a different way (rephrasing)
9.	Has trouble finding the right word
10.	Pronounces common words incorrectly
11.	Gets confused in noisy places
12.	Has difficulty engaging in conversation with others
13.	Has behaviour problems
14.	Lacks self-confidence
15.	Avoids group activities
16.	Has trouble paying attention
17.	Has trouble sounding out words
18.	Has trouble reading
19.	Has difficulty spelling
20.	Cannot tell you about the events of his/her school day

If you answered Sometimes or Always to several of these, your child may be at-risk for a language-based learning disability and will likely require intervention to prevent these issues from affecting him/her academically in the future. Contact us for more information.
